

NEAMAT SABRY

Email: nsabry@smith.edu, Github: neamtsabry,
LinkedIn: neamatsabry, Website: neamatsabry.com

EDUCATION

Smith College

Expected May 2021

Bachelor's Degree Computer Science

Relevant coursework: Intro to CS, Google Jterm Android Workshop, Data Structures, Advanced Programming Techniques

SKILLS

Coding Languages: Java, Python, HTML, CSS, JavaScript, jQuery

Other: Android Studio, Git, SolidWorks, AutoCad

WORK EXPERIENCE

Teacher Assistant, Google Jterm Android Workshop, Smith College

January 2019

Clarified assignments, helped with debugging programs in Java using Android Studio and mentored individual groups as they created their final Android apps centered around college and academics.

Instructor, iD Tech Summer Camps, Bentley University

May - Aug 2018

Taught 7-12 year olds Graphical RobotC, Scratch and Python as well as instructed a hardware class in assembling PiTop laptops and basic circuits.

PROJECTS

Chic, HTML, CSS, Javascript, Chic 2.0, Android Studio

Developed as a website at HackSmith 2018 to enable customers at a restaurant an easy check-splitting experience with their friends. Pitched Chic 2.0, an Android app first developed in the Google Jterm class, at the Draper Competition as a business solution to conquer check splitting dilemmas worldwide.

LEADERSHIP

Mentor, AEMES Mentoring Program, Smith College

Sep 2018 - present

Mentor sophomores and first years at Smith who are interested in the STEM fields, especially those from underrepresented groups, with selecting classes and navigating their major

Instructor, Girls Who Code, Smith College

Sep 2017 - present

Facilitated learning for middle school girls who lack any coding experience in order to create projects in Python and Scratch and websites using HTML, CSS and JavaScript.

AWARDS

Grace Hopper Scholar, AnitaB.org Institute of Women in Technology

June 2018

Semi Finalist, Sixth Annual Draper Competition for Collegiate Women Entrepreneurs

Apr 2018

Concept Award, Grinspoon Entrepreneurship initiative

Apr 2018

Most Innovative Business Solution, Hack Smith

Apr 2018

Altrevida Prize for Best Pitch, Smith College Prize in Entrepreneurship

March 2018